1. Approval of Minutes

The minutes of the 93rd meeting were approved as published.

25X1

The ITC Director is preparing the schedule of courses for the remainder of 1974. He has asked all member agencies to inform him as soon as possible of their training requirements, especially for the Audio Countermeasures Techniques and the Advanced Telephone courses. Both have been in increasing demand and the Director expects each of them to be conducted twice in the second half of 1974.

[redacted] suggested that a summary of the activities of the ITC be prepared for the Associate Deputy to the DCI for the Intelligence Community, [redacted]. The Chairman and members agreed with the suggestion and [redacted] will consult with [redacted] on the preparation of the summary.

It was also suggested that a future Committee meeting be held at the ITC. Mr. Fischer will arrange this with [redacted].

5. Reports by Members

The Chairman introduced the draft DoD Directive, "DoD Technical Surveillance Countermeasures Survey Program," for Committee consideration. Col. Michel said that the main purpose of the DoD paper was to insure central management of the Survey Program. The Chairman, after polling the members, stated that the Committee had no problems with the draft.

The Chairman reported an unusual incident which took place in Moscow during the visit of Secretary of Commerce Dent. A crew member, Maj. Brown, who had remained alone in his hotel room, was visited by a Soviet who entered the room unannounced carrying a long metal probe with a nail-like protuberance on one end trailing a wire leading back to the hallway. The intruder touched all metal objects in the room, continuing to do so even after noticing Maj. Brown. He completed his work in about five minutes and departed.
